

CUSTOMS IN GREECE

The Carnival is a great celebration in Greece and a time for fun and laughter. It lasts three weeks, usually from the middle of February to the beginning of March. People dress up in beautiful, funny or scary costumes which they often make themselves and go to parties. On every Sunday of the Carnival there's a big parade of masqueraders and floats in central streets of every town. In Athens the biggest and most famous parade is the one in Moschato-Tavros, which you can see in this video.

Customs of Clean Monday

People go to the countryside and they fly a kite. Also they eat shellfish and other sea food and a special kind of bread, baked only on that day, named

Clean Monday

and today's Zoe D

PIXTON